Prose: Down the Rabbit-Hole (Lewis Carroll)

২ নম্বরের জন্য গুরুত্বপূর্ণ প্রশ্ন ও উত্তর (Short Q&A):

১. Why did Alice think the Rabbit was unusual? Ans: Alice thought the Rabbit was unusual because it not only took a watch out of its waistcoat-pocket and looked at it, but also seemed to be in a great hurry, talking to itself.

২. Describe the rabbit-hole as Alice fell through it. Ans: The rabbit-hole was like a very deep well. The sides were filled with cupboards, bookshelves, maps, and pictures hung upon pegs. Alice fell so slowly that she had time to look around.

৩. What did Alice find on the three-legged table? Ans: Alice found a tiny golden key on the solid glass three-legged table. Later, she also found a small bottle with a paper label saying “DRINK ME” beautifully printed on it.

৪. What happened after Alice drank from the bottle? Ans: After drinking from the bottle, Alice began to shrink rapidly. She shut up like a telescope and ended up being only ten inches high, which was the right size to pass through the little door into the garden.

৬ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (All-in-one Answer):

Context: This answer covers Alice’s curiosity, the fall, and the theme of wonder.

Answer: “Down the Rabbit-Hole”, the opening chapter of Lewis Carroll’s famous novel, explores the themes of curiosity and the transition from reality to a world of fantasy. The story begins with Alice following a talking White Rabbit, which leads her to fall into a deep, mysterious hole. This fall represents a journey into the subconscious mind where the laws of physics do not apply.

Alice’s experiences—shrinking, finding a golden key, and encountering strange objects—highlight her courage and adaptability. Carroll uses Alice’s journey to show how a child’s imagination can transform a boring afternoon into an extraordinary adventure, making it a classic tale of wonder and discovery.

Prose: Three Questions (Leo Tolstoy)

২ নম্বরের জন্য গুরুত্বপূর্ণ পয়েন্ট (Short Q&A):

১. The Three Questions: (i) What is the right time to begin everything? (ii) Who are the right people to listen to? (iii) What is the most important thing to do?

২. The Hermit's Answer: (i) The most important time is 'Now'. (ii) The most important person is the one you are with. (iii) The most important work is to do good for that person

৩. The Bearded Man: He was the Tsar's enemy who came to kill him but ended up being saved by the Tsar and became his loyal servant.

৬ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (All-in-one Answer for 6 Marks):

Context: This answer covers the theme, the Tsar's realization, and the Hermit's wisdom.

Answer: "Three Questions" by the legendary Russian author Leo Tolstoy is a philosophical parable that explores the true essence of wisdom and morality. The story revolves around a Tsar who seeks the answers to three vital questions to achieve perfection in life. After an insightful encounter with a hermit and an act of compassion towards a wounded enemy, the Tsar discovers that the answers are not theoretical but practical.

He learns that the most important time is 'Now', the most necessary person is the one you are with, and the most vital occupation is to do good for others. The story beautifully concludes that the purpose of human life is rooted in present action and kindness.

Verse: Hawk Roosting (Ted Hughes)

৬ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (6 Marks Answer):

In his powerful poem "Hawk Roosting", the renowned poet Ted Hughes explores the themes of absolute power and the raw violence of nature. Speaking through the persona of a hawk, the poet portrays a creature that considers itself the pinnacle of creation. Sitting high in the wood, the hawk rejects any form of sophisticated morality or "falsifying" manners.

For the hawk, the entire universe exists merely to serve its convenience and provide it with prey. Its "allotment of death" represents a dictatorial ego that refuses to change. Hughes uses the hawk as a symbol of cold, calculated dominance that remains unaffected by time or ethics.

Verse: The Greenhouse Effect (Roger McGough)

৬ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (6 Marks Answer)

“The Greenhouse Effect” by the contemporary poet Roger McGough is a sharp, satirical warning against the environmental crisis caused by human greed. The poem uses the metaphor of a ‘greenhouse’ to illustrate how modern industrialization is trapping us in a self-made prison of heat and toxic gases.

McGough highlights the tragic irony where humanity trades its life-sustaining atmosphere for material growth and comfort. The tone is dark and cautionary, suggesting that nature’s balance has been dangerously disrupted. Ultimately, the poem serves as a wake-up call, reminding us that if we continue to suffocate the Earth, we are essentially writing our own obituary.

Verse: Sonnet 73 (William Shakespeare)

৬ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (6 Marks Answer)

Answer: In the profound and moving “Sonnet 73”, the legendary poet William Shakespeare presents a beautiful reflection on the inevitable passage of time and the approaching end of life. The poet uses three powerful metaphors—the yellow leaves of autumn, the fading twilight after sunset, and the dying embers of a fire—to describe his aging self. These images create a sense of loss and mortality.

However, the poem takes a deep turn in the final couplet. Shakespeare suggests that knowing life is short makes love more intense and sincere. The beloved’s love becomes stronger because they realize they must soon part with the poet. Thus, the sonnet concludes that true love is strengthened by the awareness of death.

Drama: Riders to the Sea (J.M. Synge)

৫ নম্বরের মাস্টার আনসার (Master Note):

Answer: “Riders to the Sea”, a masterpiece by J.M. Synge, is a powerful one-act tragedy that depicts the eternal struggle between man and the relentless forces of nature. Set on the Aran Islands, the play focuses on Maurya, a mother who has lost her husband and all but one of her sons to the cruel sea. The sea is portrayed not just as water, but as an inescapable fate.

When her last son, Bartley, is also claimed by the waves, Maurya's character undergoes a profound transformation. Her grief turns into a stoic resignation as she famously declares, "They're all gone now, and there isn't anything more the sea can do to me." The play ends as a solemn tribute to human endurance in the face of inevitable death.

১. Social Media: Impact on Youth

Social Media has revolutionized the way we communicate, becoming an inseparable part of modern youth's life. It offers a platform for self-expression, learning, and global connectivity. Students can share ideas and gain knowledge across borders. However, it is a double-edged sword. Excessive use leads to addiction, sleep deprivation, and mental health issues like anxiety and "FOMO" (Fear Of Missing Out). Moreover, cyberbullying and the spread of misinformation are serious threats. While social media can be a tool for empowerment, it requires conscious and disciplined usage. The youth must learn to balance their virtual lives with reality to ensure that technology remains a servant, not a master.+5

২. Artificial Intelligence: Boon or Bane

The rise of Artificial Intelligence (AI) marks a significant turning point in human history. From healthcare to space exploration, AI has increased efficiency and solved complex problems that were once impossible. It is a boon as it automates repetitive tasks and provides data-driven insights. However, it also presents a bane in the form of potential job losses and ethical concerns. Digital inequality is another risk, where those without access to AI technology may be left behind. Ultimately, AI is a tool created by humans. Its impact—whether it will be a blessing or a curse—depends entirely on how we regulate its development and ensure its ethical use for the betterment of future

৩. Climate Change and Urbanization

Climate change is the most pressing challenge of the 21st century. Rapid urbanization and industrial growth have led to massive deforestation and the loss of natural spaces. As cities expand, “concrete jungles” replace green belts, leading to rising temperatures and unpredictable weather patterns. The melting of polar ice caps and frequent floods are direct consequences of our neglect. Urbanization provides economic opportunities, but at the cost of the environment. To save our planet, we must adopt sustainable urban planning, plant more trees, and shift to renewable energy. Protecting nature is no longer an option; it is a necessity for human survival.+1

৪. The Role of Education in Shaping the Nation

Education is the backbone of a nation and the most powerful weapon to change the world. It goes beyond mere literacy; it develops critical thinking, moral values, and social responsibility. A well-educated population drives economic growth and reduces social evils like poverty and discrimination. However, in the modern era, “Digital Inequality” poses a threat to equal education, as many students lack access to online tools. For a nation to prosper, education must be inclusive and accessible to all. When students are empowered with knowledge, they become responsible citizens who contribute to the peace, progress, and prosperity of their country.

৫. Complaint to Store (Defective Laptop/Phone)

Subject: Complaint regarding malfunctioning laptop (Order ID: #12345)

Respected Manager, I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with a Dell laptop I purchased from your online store on February 10th. Within two days of use, the screen has started flickering and the battery is overheating excessively.

As the product is under warranty, I request you to either replace the unit or arrange for a technician to fix it immediately. I have attached a copy of the invoice for your reference.

Regards, (Your Name) Phone: 9876XXXXXX

২. To College Authority (Enquiring about Admission)

Subject: Enquiry regarding Undergraduate Admission 2026

Respected Principal/Admission In-charge, I am a candidate from the West Bengal Council of Higher Secondary Education, and I am highly interested in applying for the B.A. English Honours course at your esteemed college.

Could you please provide information regarding the application start date, eligibility criteria, and the required documents? I would also like to know if there is an entrance test this year.

Looking forward to your early response.

Sincerely, (Your Name)

৩. To Municipal Authority (Poor Condition of Roads)

Subject: Complaint regarding poor condition of roads in Ward No. 12

To The Chairperson, I wish to bring to your kind attention the deplorable condition of the main road in our locality. Due to recent rains, the road is full of deep potholes, making it extremely dangerous for commuters and students, especially at night.

Frequent accidents are occurring in this area. I request you to take immediate steps for the repair and maintenance of the road to ensure public safety.

Thank you. Yours faithfully, (Your Name)

৪. To the Editor (Pollution due to Firecrackers)

Subject: Growing concern over pollution caused by firecrackers

To The Editor, Through the columns of your esteemed daily, I would like to voice my concern regarding the alarming rise in air and noise pollution during festivals due to firecrackers.

This not only affects the environment but also causes severe distress to elderly citizens, heart patients, and animals. It is high time we promote ‘Green Crackers’ and create awareness for a sustainable celebration. I hope the authorities take strict measures to regulate this.

Yours sincerely, (Your Name)

CTA: Have you ever faced a security issue online? Let's share awareness in the comments!

৫. Online vs. Offline Education: Which One Wins?

Introduction: The world of education has changed drastically in recent years. Today, students are often caught between the traditional charm of a classroom and the modern convenience of a screen.

- 1. Flexibility vs. Discipline: Online education offers the freedom to learn from anywhere and at any time. However, offline education provides a disciplined environment and a fixed routine that many students need to stay focused.
- 2. Personal Touch: In a physical classroom, the face-to-face interaction with teachers and friends builds social skills and emotional bonds. Online learning, while technologically advanced, can sometimes feel lonely or lead to 'digital fatigue.'

Conclusion: Both systems have their own strengths. While online tools are great for quick access to resources, the human connection of offline school is irreplaceable. A 'Hybrid' model—combining both—is likely the future of learning.
